REPARATION CRISIS

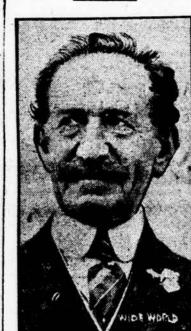

PARIS, September 18 .- The reparations crisis has been virtually settled by the negotiations in London of Rudolph Havenstein, president of the Reichsbank, according to reports reaching here today.

The Bank of England and certain Dutch banks hae agreed to make possible the payment by Germany to Belgium of the treasury notes due at the end of the year, it is declared. This would be done by means of a loan from these sources. Germany, in turn, would repay the loan at the end of eighteen months, the time limit which was asked by the German government. Credit for the settlement is given to Sir John Bradbury, British member of the reparations commission.

Gen. Lord Promises to Cover Deficit If Existence Be Shown.

DISTRICT REQUIREMENTS TO BE FULLY PROBED

Two Federal Bureaus and Commissioners to Gather Information for Hearing Planned Soon

If the District Commissioners can prove that Washington actually needs improvements which cannot financed from the $24,500,000 estimate fixed by the budget bureau, Brig. Gen. Lord, director of the budget, declared today that he would see that the city obtained sufficient additional funds to cover the deficit. While Gen. Lord declined mit himself on the requests of the District Commissioners until he has had an opportunity to study them more carefully, the director of the budget said the local government heads would be given every opportunity to prove their need of additional funds at a public hearing to be held in his office in the near future.

Will Be Given Hearing. "The letter of the District Commissioners has come to my office too recently for me to have studied it as carefully as it deserves," Gen. Lord said. "Naturally I could not discuss it fairly until I have had an opportunity to do that. But I should not want to commit myself one way or the other on the question of appro-

Needed Funds to Be Found.

"If the Commissioners prove that Washington must suffer from a lack of schools and good roads, or other necessities for lack of funds, and that the money cannot be gotten from the $24,-500,000 estimate: then we shall certainly have to see that the money is found elsewhere. Those departments that need money the least naturally must wait until those in most serious need have been served, if there is a operation with the District officials among officers of the budget bureau. While that department is obtaining information of its own and will be well posted on the condition of roads and schools in Washington when the hearing is held, the officials demonstrated an unbiased willingness to give the city's needs every consideration.
